

The Lost Treat

By Neema Jai

Lee had a treat.
She put it on the seat.
She went to get her hat.
When she came back... the treat was gone!

Lee was sad.

"Did you see my treat?" she asked the sheep.

The sheep said, "No. I was asleep!"

She ran to ask the goat.
The goat said, "Let me see."

He looked near the tree.

He looked near the jeep.

Then he saw something — a trail of carrot bits!

Goat followed the trail...

They led to a tiny hamster nibbling
the carrot.

The hamster said, "It is so yummy. I'm sorry!"

Lee smiled and said , "Next time,
please ask."

Then they all laughed and shared the snack.

Now they're friends — but the
hamster knows:

Taking without asking is not right!
